Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 6 is objected to because in claim 6, the phrase "of the present invention" should be deleted and the phrase "i.e." should be changed to - -including --.

2. The drawings are objected to because there is no figure 4C in the drawings.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rebillt.

Regarding claim 1, Rebillt discloses a traffic signal assembly having greater visibility comprising a main body portion 7', a plurality of main colored indicator control lights 15, 17, 19 on at least one face of the main body portion, one or more peripheral auxiliary lamp portions 13 mounted on the at least one face of the main body portion and disposed essentially symmetrically, immediately around the plurality of main colored indicator control lights, and a controller for controlling illumination of both the plurality of main colored indicator control lights and the one or more auxiliary lamp portions (column 2, lines 20-30).

Regarding claim 6, Rebillt discloses a controller comprising color of outer peripheral lighted lam portion 13 changing according to and synchronized with the main colored signal indicator for the traffic signal 15, 17, 19 including green, yellow or red (col. 2, lines 20-30).

Regarding claim 7, Rebillt discloses a method for controlling a traffic signal in which one or more outer peripheral lamp portions 13 are illuminated in synchronization with illumination of the main red, green, and yellow 15, 17, 19 signal indicator lights (col.2, lines 20-30).

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rebillt.

Regarding claims 8-11, Rebillt discloses all the claimed subject matter as set forth above in the rejection of claim 7, but does not disclose the auxiliary lamp portions being red, yellow and green. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to person having ordinary skill in the art to include the auxiliary lamp portions being red, yellow and green as a choice of color for the purpose of providing greater visibility.

Art Unit: 2636

7. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rebillt in view of Hart.

Regarding claim 2, Rebillt discloses all the claimed subject matter as set forth above in the rejection of claim 1, but does not disclose the auxiliary lamp portions being disposed on a backplate portion and extending through openings on at least one face of the main body housing. Hart teaches auxiliary lamp portions being disposed on a backplate portion and extending through openings on at least one face of a main body housing (figures 1-3). It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to person having ordinary skill in the art to include the auxiliary lamp portions being disposed on a backplate portion and extending through openings on at least one face of the main body housing to the assembly of Rebillt as taught by Hart for the purpose of providing greater visibility.

8. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rebillt in view of Henry.

Regarding claims 3-5, Rebillt discloses all the claimed subject matter as set forth above in the rejection of claim 1, and further discloses clusters of auxiliary lamps (fig. 2-3), but does not disclose CCFLs. Henry teaches the choice of using neon or CCFL lights (column 16, lines 42-48). It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to person having ordinary skill in the art to include CCFLs to the assembly of Rebillt as taught by Henry for the purpose of providing greater visibility.

Art Unit: 2636

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Loungway teaches a traffic signal.
